

Work-life balance has always been one of the institutional impediments to women's success in the practice of law. Firms are under increasing pressure to address what has traditionally been considered a woman's issue.

TO OPT IN OR OPT OUT

That is the Question

March 3, 2008

5:30 p.m.

Suffolk University Law School

First Floor Function Room

RSVP at womensbar.org or call 617.973.6666. This event is free of charge.

LAUREN STILLER RIKLEÉN,

Partner, Bowditch & Dewey;
Executive Director, Bowditch Institute for Women's Success; and Author, "Ending the Gauntlet:
Removing Barriers to Women's Success in Law"

NINA E. KALLEN

Attorney at Law
Solo practitioner since 2002

AMY BAKER MANDRAGOURAS

Partner, Lahive & Cockfield, LLP

Join us to discuss:

- How to approach career decisions relating to work-life balance
- How the legal profession is adapting to address work-life balance
- How much law firms should do to accommodate an attorney's need for work-life balance
- The perceived or real need to leave large firm practice for a smaller firm or go solo to achieve work-life balance
- Whether solo and small firm practice provides work-life balance
- How the work-life balance trend towards gender neutrality will affect the future of the legal profession

Presented by the Solo & Small Firm Committee of the WBA

